Symptoms Website

Bogdan Vlad Lazar

Idea: Create a simple but needed website, that lets people know how serious their condition is, while also calming the more paranoid down.

A menu will take you through your symptoms and at the end, you will be presented with a couple top doctors from your region and their opinions.

Start: First we will finish the concept and plan every detail carefully.

Then we will hit the streets and ask people what they think about our idea. If they like it, ask them for a signature for our petition. This petition we will use to convince doctors that our website is profitable for us, them and the people all over.

We will then create a form and a points system for the doctors to complete. The point system will allow us to create an algorithm that will help select the best possible “doctors answer” from the database and display to the user, based on their symptoms.

Search: For the search, the users must enter their approximate age, weight, gender and region. Users will also be able to enter allergies or other already known problems.
